AT THE 'VILLE.

Village Meeting. The annual village meeting was held in Music Hall Wednesday evening with a very good attendance. The various arles in the warning were taken up, first being the election of officers. The following were elected after some balloting: ustees, Austin Houghton, John De-Fard, Jesse Spencer; electric light comsioner for three years, John Cleary: water commissioner for three years, A. p. Paige; auditors, H. W. Lyster, H. L. Parker, John Lincoln; treasurer, C. L. Stuart; clerk. W. H. Parker; agent, N. A. Norton; chief engineer, S. Eastman. The rilinge voted to pay the band the same um for outdoor concerts as last year, to abate the poll taxes of the fire company, and to raise a tax of 50 cents.

Article 5. Section 1 of the By-laws, was amended to read as follows: "No person shall open or keep any saloon, restauant, victualing house, lunch room or cale, where food, beer or soft drinks are hilliard or poel room, or place erein the game of billiards or pool is ed, or set up or maintain any billard or pool table in this village for pubnse until be shall first have obtained a use therefor from the trustees, subject o such regulations and restrictions as he trustees may prescribe, and shall have paid the village the license tee of $5. sy person who shall violate any of the ons of this article shall torfeit the se and be fined not more than $20. or less than $5, for each offense,' This seems a wise piece of legislation and puts in the hands of the trustees mplete power to regulate and control large number of eating and drinking es, the amount spent for billiards, ol and som drinks in these places being nething enormous. It is now "up to" he trustees to regulate the number and duct of these resorts. This concluded e principal business of the meeting.

Life Gunrds.

The Life Guards are two regiments of cavalry forming part of the British household troops. They are gallant soldiers, and every loyal British heart is proud of them. Not only the King's household, but yours, ours, everybody's should have its life guards. The need of them is especially great when the greatest loes of life, diseases, find allies in the very elements as colds, influenza, catarrh, the grip, and pneumonia do in the stormy month of March. The best way that we know of to guard against these diseases is to strengthen the system with Hood's Sarsaparilla-the greatest of all life guards. It removes the conditions in which these diseases make their most successful attack, gives vigor and tone to all the vital organs and functions, and imparts a genial warmth to the blood. Remember the weaker the system the greater the exposure to disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the system strong.

CABOT. Thoughtless Shooting of Deer.

A peculiar case in the illegal killing of deer occurred in this town last week. Clement Howland, who was looking over the Harry Whittier larm, was accompanied by his nephew, Wilbur Howland, a son of Charles Howland, a lad of 12 years, who carried a 38 40 Marlin rifle. The boy was in advance of the men, and came suddenly upon a berd of eight deer, and hastily drew his rifle, firing into the herd three times. He hit a beautiful three or four-year-old doe, breaking one fore leg and entering the body in such a manner as to bleed the animal thoroughly causing her death in a few minutes. Mr. Howland ran to the home of Ceylon Morris and telephoned the county warden at Marshfield, who went to the Morris farm at once. The men had gotten the deer to the barn, per order of the warden, before his arrival, and Mr. Carpenter dressed it, with the hide and head on. The dressed weight of the animal will probably reach from 150 to 175 pounds. Warden Pike com-municated with markets in Montpelier and Barre, selling the carcass to F. D. Ladd of Barre. He also communicated with State Commissioner Thomas as to the prosecution of the case. The com-missioner's reply was: "Prosecute the case; there is no other way." When asked by the warden why he shot the deer, the boy carelessly replied: 'I didn't think." The father of the boy teels very badly over the affair, and will do all in his power to right the deed. These deer have herded near the Morris farm through the winter, having been seen many times by different persons. There is one very large buck and the rest Mr. and Mrs. Ayer, who were called to are does. The animals are fat and sleek and the injured deer would have given birth to a fawn in the early summer.

WALDEN.

Forty-fourth Anniversary. One of the most enjoyable social events of the season here occurred March 5th when about 50 neighbors and friends from this town and East Hardwick invaded the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stafford where they have lived since 1867, to celebrate with them the anniversary of their marriage at East Hardwick in 1862. The day began joyously by the arrival on the morning train of their daughter, Miss Fanny, from Au-burndale, Mass., and a later train brought their son, Albert, from Barre. All met with a very cordial reception and the occasion was an informal one. Each guest entered into the spirit and helped make it one which memory will treasure as a bright spot in the journey of life. At high noon a bountiful repast furnished by the guests, was laid upon the long tables, a blessing invoked by Rev. Mr. Martin of this town and all did ample justice to the tempting viands. Rev. Hollis Campbell of East Hardwick, in a fine speech presented the host and hostess with two fine rocking chairs and other gitts as tokens of their regard which were feelingly responded to by the family. Before the hour for a general leavetaking with good wishes for many happy returns of the day, vocal and instrumental music was enjoyed, closing with the familiar tune of 'Auld Lang Syne" heartily sung by old

David Stevens attended the reunion of the G. A. R.'s at Burlington recently, and also the G. A. R. encampment at Denver, Col., last tall. An interesting episode occurred there.
